GOV. HARMON ADDRESSED VAST AUDIENCE LAST NIGHT IN BRYAN'S HOME STATE

LANDS ON OHIO "PROGRESSIVE" LEAGUE LEADERS

Denounces Them as Lobbyists, Office Brokers and Dealers in Illicit Favors---Governor Assailed
Taft's Tariff Record and Told How Democratic Majorities Were Doubled
After Roosevelt's Ohio
Campaign in 1910.

Omaha, Neb., April 13.—Governor Harmon of Ohio, in a spirited address here, in Colonel Bryan's state last night replied to charges that he is not a progressive. He resented as a slander the intimation that he stood for an offensive little short of treason in the eyes of the Democrats—and declared the charge that he took part in the sale of government bonds while a cabinet officer was mere wantonness.

Governor Harmon, who had a tremendous audience, did not mention the name of Colonel Bryan, who is fighting him so vigorously, but declared that it is due his friends in Nebraska to refute falsehoods which have been circulated about him, a step which, he said, would not be necessary at home.

Governor Harmon denounced the so-called progressive league of Ohio Democrats, declaring that the "fabricator-in-chief" of the organization was involved in efforts to profit personally in connection with the deposit of public money in banks. Somewhat similar charges the governor made against another member of the league who has been stumping Nebraska against Harmon. This man, the governor said, he had sent for and threatened to denounce publicly for his efforts to prevail upon the treasurer of state to disregard the people's expressed will as to deposits of public money. Other members of the league Governor Harmon described as known lobbyists, office brokers and dealers in illicit favors. W. W. Durbin of Kenton was the organizer of the Anti-Harmon league of Ohio Democrats and John J. Lentz of Columbus has been stumping Nebraska.

President Taft's record was assailed by Governor Harmon, who also pointed out how Democratic majorities in Ohio were doubled after Colonel Roosevelt's campaign in the state in 1910. The governor, who defended his record in office as progressive, said:

"I am here by the invitation of my good friends in Nebraska and, while I am always averse to speaking about myself, I feel that it is due to them to speak of some matters of a public nature about which falsehoods have been circulated so wholly ungrounded that persistence in them can not be ascribed to proper motives. It would not be necessary to do this at home.

Retraction Not Forthcoming.
"There has been no retraction of the published statement that I took part in a sale of government bonds which occurred months before I entered the cabinet. And as the facts are matters of public record, making the charge without enquiry was mere wantonness.

"As that is the only attempt at specification under the charge of favoring any interests but those of the public, its complete refutation discredits the charge with every lover of fair play. When one has been in public life as much as I have his conduct affords a better test of him than the assertions of others or his own.

"Among the many things it was my good fortune to accomplish as attorney general, the one which is best known and for which even my Republican successors have commended me, was securing from the supreme court the first decisions upholding the Sherman anti-trust law. These were not announced until my term had expired, but afterward became the basis of the cases in which that wholesome law was enforced, until the recent ones wherein the idea of reasonableness was introduced. Yet, though these facts are of common knowledge, the false statement is reiterated that I neglected my duty in that regard.

"But my first election as governor, when Ohio went Republican by almost 70,000 majority, was due to the knowledge of my public services and the belief by the people of Ohio that their continuance would bring about reforms whose need had become urgent.

Made It Campaign Issue.
"One of these related to favoritism and grafting in connection with the deposit in banks of the public money. While I was making the campaign largely on these matters one of my associates on the ticket, as was afterward learned, was trying to better his prospects by promising deposits in case of his election to bankers who would give him support by votes or contributions. This man is now noisily 'progressive' and fabricator in chief of a 'league' at whose first meeting the doorkeeper was under indictment for bribery in the legislature and is now in the penitentiary.

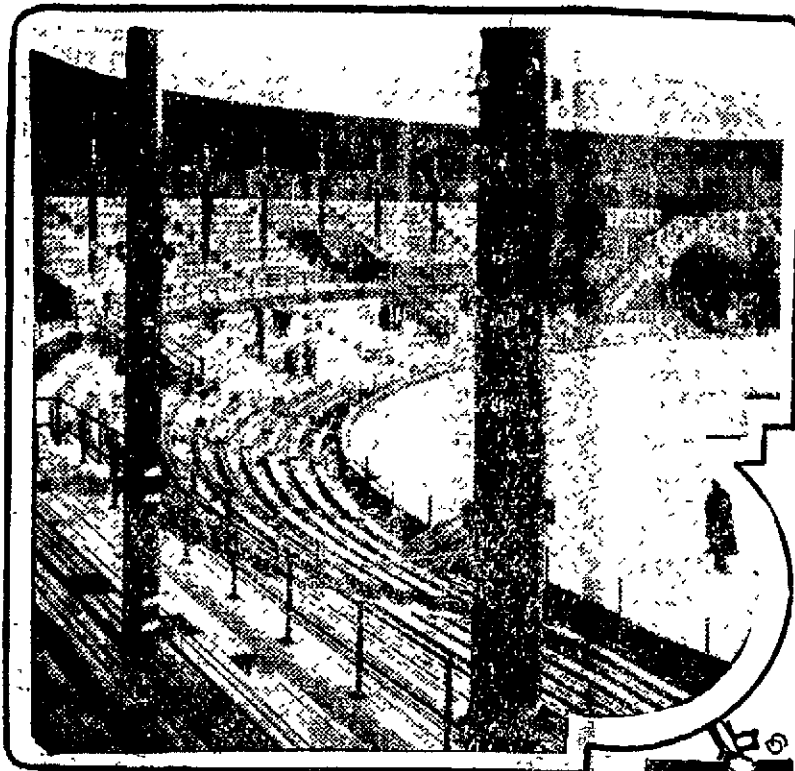

"Some members of this 'league' are known lobbyists, office brokers and dealers in illicit favors with the ring which long disgraced the Republican party in Ohio. The 'progress' they want is backward, like the crab's, to the fruitful times when they swapped votes they could control in the legislature with the bosses on the other side in return for advantages of some sort to themselves.

"The governor has not had the veto in Ohio until the past few years. It was seldom used until my time, so there was no settled practice. From the beginning my policy was to sign a bill if I approved its provisions generally, and to veto it if I disapproved them, and to let it become a law by lapse of time without my signature when it contained doubtful provisions and also good ones which outweighed them.

"Take our tax reforms, for example, which have attracted the attention of the entire country.

"One of the first things I determined to undertake was to make the raising of public funds fair and just as among all kinds of property and to check the ruinous increase in the cost of government. For under all governments more real, substantial wrong can be done to a greater number of citizens in the collection and expenditure of the revenues than in any other exercise of authority.

"In addition to general knowledge on the subject my experience with various forms of corporate property, whose true value is not easily learned, had opened my eyes to the gross injustice arising from inequalities in valuations for taxation.

"The system in Ohio was adopted when the property in the state was chiefly land. It had become antiquated and unsuited to present needs. In my first message, January, 1909, I recommended the creation of a permanent tax commission, which the state had never had. I followed this, from time to time, with various and repeated recommendations of tax reform and retrenchment.

Legislature Balked.
"But the legislature, Republican in both branches, was determined to permit nothing to be done which would gain commendation for the new administration, and nothing was done.

"At the next session of the same body public sentiment had made itself felt. A bill drawn at my instance by a Democratic member was defeated, but mangled out of all shape it was reintroduced and passed as a Republican measure. It created a tax commission to be appointed by (Continued on page 2, col. 4.)

Miss Clara Barton, founder of American Red Cross, to Rest in Family Burial Lot.

Washington, April 13.—Miss Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross and noted Civil War nurse, who died at her home in Glen Echo, Md., yesterday, will be buried where she was born, at Oxford, Mass., where father, mother, brother and sisters are also buried.

Brief funeral services will be held at the Glen Echo home Sunday afternoon. In accordance with Miss Barton's wishes, expressed shortly before her death, her long-time friend, Mrs. John A. Logan, will be present and will deliver a brief eulogy.

Rev. Dr. John VanSchaick and Rev. Dr. Curry, Universalist clergymen, will also officiate. Miss Barton belonged to the Universalist church, but held membership in no church.

The funeral party will leave here Sunday evening, and further services in Oxford will be conducted Monday afternoon by Rev. William E. Barton, of Chicago, a cousin, and Rev. Percy H. Epler, of Worcester, Mass., both Congregational ministers.

Miss Barton celebrated her ninetieth birthday anniversary December 25, when she received many messages of congratulation from all parts of the world.

COL. ROOSEVELT CAMPAIGNING IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Nashua, N. H., April 13.—Today's campaign of Colonel Roosevelt in New Hampshire began this morning in Nashua. He made a speech at the station, later spoke in the hall, and still later in People's square. During the day he will speak in Concord and Manchester.

"This is a straight lineup between the people on one side and the professional politicians on the other," said Roosevelt. "I ask you people of New Hampshire who have taken the lead in the east in political progress not to slip back from that lead."

WILL FLOOD ENTIRE BASIN OF TENNESSEE

New Orleans, La., April 13.—The Atsita crevice and the waters from the break at Panther Fork in Ark., will flood practically the entire Arkansas river basin in a large section of the east and west parishes, according to indications at noon. Hundreds of families are marooned on house-tops, awaiting rescue. Eighteen lives are in peril at the little town of Roosevelt. A rescuing party is making for Roosevelt in a tug steamer.

ENDEAVORING TO SETTLE TROUBLE

Philadelphia, April 13.—The subcommittee of eight representing the miners and operators got down to work early today in their endeavor to work out the coal troubles in the anthracite coal regions. The committee resumed the discussion for higher wages, shorter work days, recognition of the union and improved working conditions. It is understood no final decision will be made on any demand until all have been discussed.

TIDAL WAVE ON LAKE ERIE

Cleveland, April 13.—Various Lake Erie ports report an immense tidal wave which swept the south shore of Lake Erie last night. At Ashtabula the steamer Sahara was swept from her moorings, thrown against another steamer and smashed. At Painesville ice was washed 600 feet back from the river and ice bergs were observed out in the lake.

PENNSYLVANIA HAS PURCHASED NARROW GAUGE

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has purchased the Ohio River and Western railroad for the sum of $3,000,000. This will give the Pennsylvania the rights of 25,000 acres of Pittsburgh No. 8 coal lands. The Ohio River and Western, formerly known as the B. & O. is a narrow gauge road running from Zanesville to Belaire, 112 miles.

GOV. HARMON ENDORSED BY LICKING COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE THIS AFTERNOON

The Democratic Central Committee of Licking County met Saturday afternoon in the convention room of the court house and was largely attended.

Resolutions endorsing the candidacy of Governor Harmon for president, W. A. Ashbrook for congress and Messrs. Jas. R. Fitzgibbon and Lyman H. Hitchcock for delegates to the National Democratic Convention were greeted with enthusiasm.

The meeting was presided over by Chairman James J. Hill of Johnstown.

Just before adjourning the meeting a rising vote of thanks was extended to Chairman Hill and secretary E. J. McGonagle and to Editor J. H. Newton of the Advocate.

The following resolution offered by A. A. Rector was adopted by the committee:

Be it resolved:

By the Democratic County Central Committee of Licking County, Ohio, that the county convention of the Democracy of Licking County shall be held on the 25th day of May, A. D. 1912, in Newark, Ohio at 10 o'clock a. m. that the said convention shall consist of delegates to be chosen at the primary election on May 21, 1912 by each voting precinct in said county on the basis of one delegate for every fifty votes cast for Judson Harmon in 1910 and one delegate for every fraction over 25 cast in said precinct shall be apportioned as nearly as may be upon that basis.

Be it further resolved by said committee that the delegates to the said county convention when assembled in convention shall proceed to choose 14 delegates from Licking county to the State Convention, 14 delegates from Licking County to the Democratic Judicial convention, 72 delegates from Licking county to the Democratic Common Pleas judicial convention, 72 delegates from Licking county to the Democratic senatorial convention.

Be it further resolved that the chairman and secretary of said convention shall certify to the Democratic State convention, Circuit Judicial Convention, Common Pleas Judicial Convention and senatorial convention, a list of the delegates so chosen at said convention over their hands.

The following resolution offered by John Adams was accepted:

Whereas, the administration of Judson Harmon as Governor of Ohio during two terms has been an immense benefit to the people of Ohio and to the lasting credit of the Democratic party of the State and

Whereas, no greater good could come to the nation at large than to have the national affairs administered in the same business like and statesmanlike manner in which the affairs of the state have been administered by Governor Harmon and

Whereas the National Democratic party could acquire no greater honor than by nominating and electing Governor Harmon as president of the United States, therefore,

Be it resolved, by the Democratic Central Committee of Licking County, Ohio, that we heartily and enthusiastically endorse the candidacy of Governor Harmon for the nomination of the Democratic party of the United States and pledge to him our support in every way possible and

Be it further resolved that we do endorse the candidacy of James R. Fitzgibbon and Lyman H. Hitchcock as delegates from the Seventeenth Congressional district of Ohio to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore, Md.

Be it further resolved that this meeting fully endorses the splendid service of the Hon. Wm. A. Ashbrook as our representative in Congress and we heartily recommend his re-election to that responsible position.

WAYNE DEMOCRATS ENDORSE GOV. HARMON AND DELEGATES FITZGIBBON AND HITCHCOCK

Wooster, Ohio, April 13.—At a joint meeting of the Democratic County Executive and Central committee yesterday afternoon a resolution endorsing Governor Judson Harmon for President was adopted with only one dissenting vote.

The candidacy of James R. Fitzgibbon of Newark and Lyman H. Hitchcock, of Millersburg, who are candidates for delegates to the Baltimore national convention in the interest of Governor Harmon, were also endorsed.

As this city is the home of former Senator Vanover, an ultra Bryanite, and the Woodrow Wilson candidate for delegate to Baltimore, the action of the Democratic official committee is considered a distinct slap at the Wilson supporters who are just now boosting the meeting to be held here Monday afternoon, at which William J. Bryan will speak.

NORTH ENDERS TO ASK COUNCIL FOR A SUBWAY

The North End Civic Improvement association met Friday night at the call of Chairman C. L. Riley. There was a good attendance, and matters of interest to this section of the city were discussed. It was the sense of the meeting that petitions from of this section of the city be presented to the City Council asking for the construction of a subway under the B. and O. tracks at Norton avenue. At this point the tracks are so elevated that a subway could be constructed at a nominal cost.

The question of police protection for this part of Newark was also discussed at the meeting.

ATTY. GEN. HOGAN

Columbus, April 13.—Public officials may retain their connection with firms employed by corporations or even their connection with corporations themselves providing that relationship does not interfere with the performance of their official duties or cause them to be financially interested in the making of public contracts or the expenditure of public funds. This was the decision of Attorney General, Hogan today.

WEST POINT CHOSEN FOR THE BURIAL

Body of Gen. Grant to Lie in State For Ten Days

TELEGRAMS OF SYMPATHY

Received by Widow From All Parts of the Country---Warrior's Daughter Coming From Russia.

New York, April 13.—The body of Major General Frederick Grant will lie for ten days in the Chapel at Governor's Island where for the last few years of his life he has made his headquarters as commander of the Department of the East. It was announced today that General Grant will be buried at West Point. Military funeral services will be held here and at the grave.

This was announced after Brigadier Tasker H. Bliss, now in command of the department of the East and Lieutenant Marion Howze, the dead general's military aide, had held a consultation at the Hotel Buckingham with Mrs. Grant and Captain Ulysses S. Grant III, who arrived from Washington. The funeral will be delayed however, for ten or twelve days. It was stated until the arrival here of General Grant's daughter, Princess Michael Cantacuzene-Speransky, who is now in Russia. The princess called today that she would start for this country at once.

This morning the body was removed to Governor's Island, headquarters of the Department of the East, and placed in the chapel of Cornellus, the Centurion, where it will lie in state under military guard until the day of the funeral.

The general's widow has been the recipient of hundreds of telegrams and other messages of sympathy from all over the country. One of the first telegrams to be delivered to Mrs. Grant was from President Taft, dated at the White House. This message read:

Mrs. Taft and I extend to you our heartfelt sympathy in your great sorrow. We mourn with you and cherish the memory of him that has gone and of our long friendship for him. He rendered great and loyal service to the country.

From Oyster Bay, L. I., came this message:

We are inexpressibly shocked and grieved. You know what an affection we have felt for you both. THEODORE AND EDITH ROOSEVELT.

Another message, from Rt. Rev. John Ireland, archbishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of St. Paul, said:

"Am sorely grieved in hearing of the death of General Grant and beg leave to offer you, in your great tribulation the tribute of my deep sympathy. America loses a most worthy citizen and a most loyal officer and soldier."

Lieutenant Howze said last night that a statement was prepared which was to have been given out yesterday setting forth the facts regarding the illness of General Grant and indicating that the patient was improving in health.

"The apparent mystery connected with the illness of General Grant was due only to the fact," Lieutenant Howze added, "that it was hoped that by withholding the address of the general from the public he would be protected from the worry incident to the receipt of mail, the transaction of business and similar intrusions."

General Grant's death vacates the post which, next to that of chief of staff, is regarded as the most important in the army, commander-in-chief of the great Eastern division. This position is of such importance that it cannot long be permitted to remain vacant, hence it is probable that very soon after the funeral it will be necessary to detail an officer of high rank for the position, probably Major-General William H. Carter, now assistant chief of staff. General Carter was the commander of the famous maneuver division in Texas last year and has been slated for detail as commander in chief of the Department of the Lakes, with headquarters at Chicago.

MURDER REMAINS A DEEP MYSTERY

Lynn, Mass., April 13.—The murder of George E. Marsh, a wealthy manufacturer, whose body containing four bullets was found on the west marsh yesterday, remains a deep mystery today. The hunt for the mysterious auto which hovered about the scene of the murder about the time the crime occurred continues.

TRIPLE PLAYS AND HOME RUNS FEATURE GAME

SPRINGFIELD DEFEATS GRIM'S RECRUITS BY 14 TO 1 IN OPENER ON ROAD.

Shovelin and Mowse Pull off Triple
Play in Snappy Fashion—Terhune and Bales Treated Roughly

Springfield, April 13.—The squad of recruits under Manager Jack Grim were given an awful drubbing here yesterday by O'Day's Teapars, the score being 14 to 1 when the smoke and dust cleared from the field of battle.

The game furnished plenty of interest to the small crowd of fans who came out to see the contest. A triple play was pulled off by Shovelin and Mowse, Blackburn hit two home runs over the fence and Third Baseman Wentz, a player sent from Indianapolis to Springfield sprained his ankle, and the Reapers registered a total of seventeen hits from the pitching of Terhune and Bales.

On the other hand, Pitchers Smith and Johnson allowed the Molders but five hits and would have shut out the visitors if it had not been for a wobble at a critical moment.

The triple play came when Newark's chances seemed brightest. With a runner on first and second, the batsman drove a liner to Shovelin. He caught the ball, retiring the batter, threw to Mowse who stepped on the bag and tagged the runner coming from first.

Wentz, who sprained his ankle while sliding into a bag, was carried from the field and will be out of the game several weeks as a result of the injury. Score:

Springfield 14 7 0 0 5 1 0 1—14 17 6
Newark 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 5 6
Batteries: Terhune, Bales and Clark; Smith, Johnson, and Blackburn.

SHORT SPORT

Morgan pitched wonderful ball yesterday for the Phillies against Washington. He allowed but one hit and fanned each batsman in the fifth and eighth innings.

Springfield has a valuable man in Catcher Blackburn. He is a good catcher and a splendid hitter. His two home runs at Springfield yesterday would take the heart out of the most seasoned pitcher.

The State Journal officially announces this morning that the State league meeting will be held in Columbus Monday at noon.

Pitcher Webb came to the rescue of Pitcher Robertson at Indianapolis yesterday, but too late to save the game. Robertson was badly treated by the St. Paul players.

Decanniere, a former Ohio stater, pitching for St. Paul against the Indians yesterday allowed but seven hits.

Cooper, another Ohio State league graduate, allowed Kansas to score three hits, pitching for the Senators at Columbus yesterday. The Columbus fans are tickled with his performance.

The three Ohio teams, Columbus, Cincinnati and Cleveland, won their games yesterday. They do say that the Cincinnati bugs are nearly "bughouse" over the two victories of the O'Day crowd.

Third Baseman Lallier has been secured by Canton from the Louisville club. He was with Marion, O., last year.

More than a week has passed since any dope writer in the Central league has tried his hand at picking how the 12 clubs will finish. Some of the phenoms must have exploded.

The Indianapolis club loses its third straight game to St. Paul this afternoon President Watkins can be counted on to be in Springfield Saturday to see two young clubs perform says a Springfield writer.

Central league clubs who go above the salary limit will be called up on the carpet by President Carson. He is carefully keeping a record of all contracts, and as yet no club is found to be one dollar over the limit. Arrangements must be made whereby the offending club can get within the specified sum. Last year Central league clubs were being conducted at all kinds of prices, the monthly salary list running all the way from $2,225 to $3,000.

Dolly Gray, last season with Grand Rapids and the Newark Club, and Ed Goes, formerly a catcher with the Terre Haute club, will be disposed of by Manager Bill Phillips. Gray and Goes are both sent to the poor farm, and two youngsters have beaten them to it. Phillips thinks Gray is too heavy to play ball, and will use a speedier man in his place.—Youngstown Exchange.

Bert Biery, former Mansfield player, well known to Newark fans, suspended because he failed to sign his Erie contract, says he had a verbal agreement that he was to be free at the end of the 1911 season, and that he will make a fight for his release from the Erie club. Biery is a shortstop and has been dissatisfied with the terms offered him.

Cleveland Buys a Pitcher.—Al Klawitter, member of last year's New Orleans Southern League team, and who pitched the opening game of the season here Thursday for the local club, has been sold to the Cleveland Americans. Klawitter will leave immediately for Cleveland.

LET'S GET RID OF NEWARK RATS

They Endanger Property and Cause
Useless Waste of Food—Rats a Dangerous Nuisance.

One dog "single handed" killed more than one hundred rats while an old building was torn down in the central part of Newark not long ago. Other buildings about town are infested with rats. Why not start a war of extermination?

Rats are not only a nuisance but they are dangerous and they cause a useless waste of food.

What composes the rat's bill-of-fare? Anything and everything. He is practically omnivorous and eternal hungry. His great variety of diet explains the ease with which he adapts himself to any environment. In the West Indies rats have destroyed hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of coffee, orange and banana plantations. In Japan, millions of dollars' worth of rice. In Germany rat losses amount to fifty million dollars a year, while in the United States the damage runs up to over one hundred and sixty millions a year.

Experiments show that the average quantity of grain consumed by a full-grown rat is fully two ounces daily. A half-grown rat eats just about as much. Fed on grain, a rat eats from 45 to 50 lbs. a year. Worse yet, they destroy, pollute and render unfit for human consumption much more than they actually eat.

Rats are very fond of matches, especially those whose ends are dipped in paraffin and by gnawing the matches they often occur. Fires and great losses in mills and warehouses have been traced to the spontaneous ignition of greasy, oily rags, or waste carried under floors by mice.

But the commonest way in which rats cause fire is by gnawing away the insulating covering from electric wires passing under floors or inside of partitions, using the insulating materials for nests. Insurance companies a few years ago estimated the fire loss in the United States due to defective wiring, or rather insulation of wires at fifteen million dollars yearly—and since rats and mice are the chief agents in impairing insulation after the wires are in place, the bulk of this loss can be charged against them.

Telephone wires, gas and water pipes are gnawed through by rats, causing all kinds of damage, so kill those rats and save your property. Let's get rid of the rats.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR NEWSPAPER MEN AT BIG CONVENTION

Arrangements for the reception of the visiting newspaper men who will report the Democratic National convention in Baltimore in June have practically been completed and will be set out in the program for the press at national conventions. John Wilber Jenkins, chairman of the Press committee of the Baltimore convention, states that the main gallery in the Fifth Regiment armory, where the convention will be held, will adequately accommodate 400 correspondents and writers who will "cover" the convention and the other press galleries will seat several hundred additional. There will be 350 telegraph circuits installed in the press stands, affording direct wires into the newspaper offices throughout the country.

Co-operating with the correspondents who will attend the Republican convention at Chicago on June 15th and the Democratic convention at Baltimore one week later, the Baltimore and Ohio railroad will operate a Press Special to Chicago and return to Baltimore, eliminating the possibility of delay to newspaper men in reaching the convention cities in time to participate in the "convention." The tentative arrangement is for the special train to leave Washington for Chicago on Friday afternoon, June 14, and depart for Baltimore immediately after the convention closes in Chicago.

The Press Special will be made up of Pullman cars, an office car and dining car, and the train will be equipped with telegraph facilities, and typewriting machines for use of those on board. On board the train will be the newspaper men and press telegraphers from the Congressional press galleries in Washington, who will flash the proceedings of the convention to the world. The train will be operated to and from Chicago without stop, excepting to change locomotives. Invitations have been extended to the newspapers through their Washington correspondents, as well as to the press associations.

Y. M. C. A. ATHLETICS.
In the Junior class the Grimes won the championship by winning 24 out of 38 games. In the Student class the Lizards and Frogs have tied for first place. The championship game will be played off Monday, April 15th.

Saturday morning the Juniors will go on their first hike and in the afternoon the Juniors will tramp a short distance into the country and back again. This starts the first outdoor work and if the weather permits a great many of these stunts will be pulled off. In connection with the outdoor work a grade school baseball league has been organized and the captains and managers will meet at Y. M. C. A. building Saturday morning at 11:00 o'clock to discuss the schedule. Playing will be started Wednesday, April 17th and the league will run until May 1st. Seven teams have reported for first place and at present four teams in the second division.

Under the influence of San Cura Ointment surprising cures are made so quickly that they seem like miracles.

Stubborn cases of piles like those of Rev. W. F. Gilbert of Titusville, Pa., vanish before the marvelous antiseptic Ointment. Mr. Gilbert writes: "For twenty years I suffered with bleeding and itching piles; at times I was confined to the house for more than a month. Two years ago I began using San Cura Ointment and one 50c jar made a firm and permanent cure. I have not been troubled since."

San Cura Ointment is guaranteed by Erman & Son, who are agents in Newark, to cure any of the above named diseases or money back. It instantly kills all pain from burns, cuts and bruises, draws out the poison and heals in a short time. 25 cents and 50 cents a jar at Erman & Son.

GOOD BABY SOAP

San Cura is a healing and antiseptic soap; just the soothing kind that baby needs. It frees the pores from all impurities and prevents fevers, rashes, and other infantile diseases. Best for anyone's skin, cures pimples, and blackheads, cleans the complexion. 25 cents a large cake at Erman & Son.

the governor, as required in Ohio, and placed a limit on taxation. But the powers of the commission were too restricted and the tax limit was too high. Nevertheless, the bill as passed was better than none, so I let it become a law but did not sign it, announcing my intention to contend for a better one.

"In the campaign for re-election which ensued this was my principal theme in addressing the voters. My opponent, nevertheless, charged that I was opposed to tax reform and limitation because I had not signed this bill, which he declared was good and sufficient.

"The response was more than 100,000 majority against him and the election of a legislature Democratic in both branches, which, in spite of opposition from all quarters, including some Democratic members, enlarged the powers of the tax commission, required the fair valuation of property of all kinds and reduced to 1 per cent the limitation of taxation, state and local, for all purposes.

"The work done under this law was so thorough and so fair that more than seven million dollars of taxes were transferred from the farms and homes of the state to other forms of property, chiefly that of railroads and other corporations. And these taxes have been paid without litigation. The taxes of the people generally have been less than before. Offices have been abolished or consolidated and needless expenses cut off on all sides.

"Many other examples could be given if time permitted, such as a public utilities bill in the preparation and passage of which I took an active part, but which I allowed to become a law without signing because, among other things, it authorized the merger of competing telephone and other companies. There seemed to be little or no opposition to this feature, but, following a belief of long standing with me that monopoly with regulation is not a full substitute for competition of independent enterprises, I was unwilling to become responsible for its operation, even with the approval of a commission required.

"At the last election we carried all but 21 of the counties of the state, including many which went Democratic for the first time since the civil war. There are four times more Democratic officials throughout the state than ever before.

Ohio Furnishes Object Lesson.

"From whatever state our national leader may come this year, Ohio has furnished the object lesson for the campaign. The conditions at her capital were like those in Washington. The revenues were raised by taxation, unfairly apportioned and spent with wastefulness and extravagance. The government had fallen into the hands of men who administered it for their own advantage and that of others whom it was to their interest to favor in order to prolong their control. Special privilege was rampant on all sides. There was a strong suspicion of graft, great and small, in the gross form of common stealing and under the various disguises which skillful rascality employs.

"The people, weary of unkept promises of retrenchment and reform by the Republican party, turned to the Democrats, but gave them only partial control of the government. These set about the task assigned to them, only to find themselves hampered and obstructed at every turn by Republican officials. But their efforts, though unsuccessful, were not in vain, because at the next election the voters swept the state house clean and turned it over to the Democrats.

"In 1908 the people gave the Republicans another chance, on their express promise to reduce the tariff taxes and make other needed reforms. But they worse than forgot the promise. They broke it by raising these taxes and making their inequities in distribution and by way of favoritism worse than before. And as to retrenchment, that was only a stock platform phrase anyway.

"The president, who as a candidate had added his personal promise to that of his party, not only signed the Payne-Aldrich-Smoot tariff bill, but praised it as the best ever devised by man.

"At the next election the voters smote him and his party all over the Union and sent up a Democratic house to give them relief and justice. They would have sent a Democratic senate and president, too, if they could.

"The house promptly set to work, reducing its own expenses to begin with, and set its committees to enquiring into the enormous expenses of the various departments, with a view to reducing them, too. And it passed bills to reduce the tariff taxes and correct the monstrous injustice in the existing schedules. The elections were not entirely without effect on the Republican senate, because it concurred in these bills, with some modifications, and they went to the president for approval.

"He vetoed them, and the reasons he gave were, if anything, worse than his action. He will doubtless veto the bills passed at the present session, if they get through the senate. He insists that the favored manufacturers shall be guaranteed a reasonable profit at the expense of the consumers of the country, though everybody else has to take his chances of profit.

Tariff Breeds Trusts.

"The Republican tariff has been the chief breeder of trusts and combinations to suppress competition and raise prices. It has encouraged extravagance as an excuse for high duties. It has aggravated the inequalities of wealth, which have spread socialism among the people. Its reform on Democratic principles will accomplish more for the welfare of the country at large than any other single measure.

"On this there is hardly a dissent among Democrats. We favor it as strongly as we oppose a central bank. The need of such reform is confessed. The voters have demanded it. It will be the key of the Democratic position this fall.

"While the executive has duties connected with legislation, it is the business department of the government which expends people's money and is looked to for the results which that money is provided to obtain; and the same qualities and methods are required there as in any other enterprise. The incentive of personal gain is lacking, but patriotism more than fills its place with the right sort of men, for what is better worth while than really to help make our free institutions bring forth the good they were founded to secure.

"And standing for or permitting special privileges or advantages of any kind through the action of a government maintained by all the people for their equal benefit is an offense little short of treason in the eyes of the Democrats. These are matters of right and wrong with us, and not of mere economics.

"The intimation that I ever was or could be, actively or passively, guilty of this offense I resent as a slander without excuse or mitigation. I would rather be charged with theft, because that would involve no betrayal of trust reposed by my countrymen and would admit of restitution.

"It is said, and I think truthfully, that I have the confidence of the men who conduct the business enterprises, great and small, which have done so much to make Ohio what she is; and if the same be true of like men throughout the country I am glad to know it. But I am proud because it is equally true that this sentiment extends to the men whose labor carries on these enterprises and to those who blend the sunshine and rain with the soil that we may live. All these united in choosing and rechoosing me as governor, not because they sought special favors at my hands, but because they shared the belief that I would be faithful, impartial and just to all citizens alike, as Democratic principles require.

Is Party of Class.

"The weakness of the Republican party is that it has become the party of a class. The strength of the Democratic party is that it has never been the party of any class. All these defend the rights of all citizens and defend them against encroachment, no matter by or against whom. Everybody who will stand by this may belong to it and aspire to the honors it has to bestow.

"It is now proposed to change all this? Is the party to be put in an attitude of hostility to any of our citizens as a class, without distinguishing between those who obey the laws and those who do not? Are we to nominate for president someone whom the men of business all over the country fear or distrust?

"The answer depends chiefly on ourselves. Shall we lose the advantage of Republican dissensions by permitting dissensions to ripen in our own ranks? The former are due to revolt against the very policies the Republican party has long pursued. There is no sound reason for serious disagreement among Democrats. The wishes and ambitions of individuals have not a feather's weight compared with the interests of the party and its bright prospects. There are no present vital national questions on which all Democrats do not substantially agree, and we shall not attract the confidence of the country by letting such differences as there may be about other matters to mar the party harmony, without which an election cannot be won nor an administration successfully conducted. Let us have in essentials unity, in non-essentials liberty, in all things charity, and I am confident we shall soon see our country prosperous and contented under a Democratic administration."

Roland Lodge, K. of P.

Two candidates were balloted upon and elected at the last meeting of Roland Lodge, No. 305, Knights of Pythias. This brings the membership of this lodge up to 370, just 30 short of the coveted mark of 400. Considerable routine business was transacted and plans were made for the trip to Johnstown in a couple of weeks when the degree team of Roland will put on the Knigs rank. The Past Masters are also talking of going to Utica the first week in May when their association meets there. A smoker and social session was enjoyed. Next Tuesday evening the first or Page rank will be conferred. Things have been booming in Pythianism in old Roland this winter, in fact, all over Ohio, for the latest report gives a membership of 83,000 in the state. There surely is something in it when so many good men and true are flocking to the noble work which they are doing.

FEARFUL BURNING ITCH WAS CURED

By Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Another Man Had Itching on Scalp. Hair Fell Out, Leaving Bald Spots. Now Hair Has Grown, Thanks to Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"I deem it my duty to tell about a cure that the Cuticura Soap and Ointment have made on myself. My trouble began in spots breaking out right in the edge of my hair on the forehead, and spread over the front part of the top of my head from ear to ear, and over my ears which caused a most fearful burning itch, or eczema. For three years I had this terrible burning out on my forehead and scalp. I tried our family doctor and he failed to cure it. Then I tried the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and used them for two months with the result of a complete cure. Cuticura Soap and Ointment should have the credit due, and I have advised a lot of people to use them." (Signed) C. D. Thurgerson, Creek, N. C., Jan. 26, 1911.

"I will say that I have been suffering with an itching on my scalp for the past few years. My hair fell out in spots all over my head. My scalp started to trouble me with sores, then the sores healed up, and crusts formed on the top. Then the hair fell out and left spots three bald spots the shape of a half dollar. I went to more than one doctor, but could not get any relief, so I started to use the Cuticura Remedies. I used one bar of Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment, and felt relieved right away. Now the bald spots have disappeared, and my hair has grown, thanks to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I highly recommend the Cuticura Remedies to all that are suffering with scalp trouble." (Signed) Samuel Stern, 236 Floyd St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 7, 1911.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-p book on the skin, will be sent post-free, on application to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 9A, Boston, Mass.

"PINAFORE" PRESENTED LAST NIGHT

Musical Renaissance at Granville by Denison Boys and Girls was Pleasing Event.

One of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given in Granville was the presentation of H. M. S. "Pinafore" in the Opera House Friday evening by the Voice Department of the Denison Conservatory, assisted by parts of the Denison and Shepardsson Glee clubs, and others, for the benefit of the Engwerson Choral society. The audience was unusually large, appreciative and responsive, and the performers were inspired to their best efforts by the generous applause.

"Though this style of musical entertainment is a new departure for the local talent, it was a gratifying success from every point of view, and great credit is due to all concerned for the really notable performance. Mr. Priske was an ideal "Admiral," Miss Bailey a bewitching "Little Buttercup," Miss Dorothy Swartz a lovely "Hebe," and Miss Ladinsky, with her beautiful voice and pleasing manner, a charming "Josephine," who was recalled again and again. Mr. Stickney, as "Captain Coeacan," was handicapped by a sudden and severe cold which had attacked his vocal chords, leaving him almost speechless. As he had no understudy he made a very good "best" of a "bad" situation, aided by the rapid action" wherever he appeared.

Fred E. Wolfe, as "Ralph Rackstraw," was in good voice, and was several times recalled. James Wolfe, a rather youthful "Dick Deadeye," was at his best in his duet with the Captain. Karl Ashton earned a round of applause by his "He is an Englishman."

The chorus deserves special mention for the precision, accuracy and volume which marked its work. The girls looked trim and pretty in their white yachting suits and black ties, and the boys had quite the appearance of Jack-tars in their regulation sailor outfits.

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Carl Paige Wood, accompanied the singers with admirable effect. Another innovation was the use of boxes or stalls for the use of patrons or parties of four or six, constructed by

HOME TREATMENT FOR SALLOW, WRINKLED SKIN

A. F. C. asks: "What should I do for my sallow complexion, and how can I get rid of my wrinkles?" Sallowiness is best removed by removing the skin itself. This is effected by the use of ordinary mercuric iodine, which removes the offensive outer skin gradually, leaving the fine particles scarcely noticeable to the naked eye. Within a week or so you will have an even complexion, the new skin exhibiting a beautiful youthful incomparable with artificial coloring. Get an ounce of this wax at your drug store, and rub it on at night, cold cream, only don't rub it in. Wash it off in the morning with warm water. For your wrinkles try a solution of salicylic acid, one ounce dissolved in a half pint of water. Bathe your face in this every morning for awhile. The result will surprise you.

No one more vitally needs good vision than the worker. The difficulty is that almost every kind of close work aggravates the troubles of the eyes. The wise thing to do when eye defects are suspected is to submit them to an expert for examination.

Especially demand special care and attention if future good vision is to be insured.

This is more than ever true in these days of advanced technical education, with its enormous tax upon the eyes. We have exceptional facilities for dealing with children's cases.

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to Its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and lustre, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.

Almost a Miracle.

One of the most startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Holsclaw, Cleveland, Tex., was effected years ago in his brother. "He had such a dreadful cough," he writes, "that all our family thought he was going into consumption, but he began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and was completely cured by ten bottles. Now he is sound and well and weighs 215 pounds. For many years our family has used this wonderful remedy for coughs and colds with excellent results." It's quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. OLD GUARD TO HAVE PRACTICE SKIRMISH DRILL

Captain Matt Bausch, commanding officer of the Newark Company of the Old Guards, is planning a rare treat for his command early this summer. He has made requisition on the government for a quantity of blank ammunition, and has received 2,000 rounds which will be issued to the members of the company for a skirmish drill at Moundbuilders' park. The command will go through the field tactics employed during the time when they were in the service of the government in '61-'65, and to many of the "old boys" it will be much like old times. They will enjoy the smell of powder again and the various army maneuvers used in the skirmishes.

PROSPECTIVE DEMISE OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

The Republican party was born in the state of Michigan in the year 1855, just 57 years ago. Now the terrible rows in the party, requiring state troops to put down riots at its state convention, look as if the g. o. p. is going to commit absolute political suicide right at the place of its birth. This may be a sad reflection for many of the honest people who compose the party masses, but its death may pass into history as an inevitable adjustment of American politics. Having survived its usefulness, the death of the Republican party may be as natural as the quiet ending of the once revered old Whig party. Along with the contemplation of this approaching probability, however, there is the historic encouragement that Democracy never dies. That is the difference between the two great parties since the very beginning of their organization in this country.

FIGHTING THE SCHOOL BOOK TRUST

For many years representatives of the people in the legislature have been striving, but in vain, to obtain a state-wide uniform school text-book law, and thereby break the strangle hold which the American school book trust has upon the educational system of the state.

The people of Ohio are forced to pay a tribute of several hundreds of thousands of dollars each year to this trust, which, certain school men and legislators charge, forces frequent changes of text books and has as great a variety of them as is possible in the different districts, so that people moving from one district to another, are compelled to purchase entirely new books for their children.

In its fight against state wide uniformity of school text books, the trust has had the support of Republican state school commissioners. Former Commissioner Zeller went so far as to lobby against such a measure in the 1910 and 1911 legislative sessions.

State School Commissioner, Miller, a Democrat, has declared that he favors state wide uniformity of books for the rural schools, and he is doing everything in his power to bring that about. He is making a fight that, if successful, will save the parents of Ohio school children several hundreds of thousands of dollars each year, and will reduce the dividends of the school book trust a similar amount.

Before he became School Commissioner, Mr. Miller was one of the few school men in the state who favored uniform school text books—this, notwithstanding practically every school man in Indiana where they have such a system favors it. In that state uniformity of text books save the people thousands of dollars annually.

Mr. Miller is being bitterly opposed by the schoolbook trust. All the voters in Ohio, who want to break the book monopoly, should encourage Mr. Miller with their active support in his campaign for re-election, and with their votes for him next November.

DEMOCRATIC CO. OFFICIALS ELECTED WITH GOV. HARMON

The claim is made and substantiated that when Judson Harmon was re-elected Governor in 1910 he carried into office with him more Democratic county officials than the state has had since the Republican party was county officials in the State and 429 Democratic; in 1898, the figures were 809 Republican and 423 Democratic; 1900, there were 798 Republican and 522 Democratic; 1902, the number of Republican officials was increased to 940 and the Democratic decreased to 379; in 1904 the statistics show 917 Republican and 401 Democratic; following the election of a Democratic governor the previous year, the records for 1906 place the Republican county office holders at 841 and the Democratic at 477.

In 1908 when Judson Harmon was first a candidate, and was elected, the number of Republican office holders was reduced to 739 and the Democratic was increased to 577—this in a presidential year, too.

BUT THE MOST REMARKABLE DEMONSTRATION OF THE GOVERNOR'S POPULARITY AND THE STRENGTH HIS NAME ADDS TO THE COUNTY TICKETS CAN BE FOUND IN THE FIGURES FOR 1910, WHICH PLACES THE NUMBER OF REPUBLICAN COUNTY OFFICERS AT 608 AND THE DEMOCRATIC AT 709.

Since the advent of Governor Harmon into Ohio politics as a candidate, the state has been converted from the Republican column and placed in the Democratic rank.

WHO PAYS FOR TEDDY? "DUNNO?"

The entire 24th floor of the Metropolitan Tower building in New York is given over to Roosevelt headquarters. At the Outlook office is another. In Washington is another, swarming with clerks and stenographers and press agents.

In Chicago there are three separate and distinct Roosevelt juntas and scattered through the country in nearly every state are "bureaus." Quators rush up and down and special trains and private cars yank the colonel from the headquarters of the Mississippi to the sunny side of Dixie's line.

There are 200 people on the payroll of the New York headquarters of Colonel Roosevelt and the rents or their quarters amount to $11,250 per year, or about a thousand dollars a month.

Who puts up the money for all his and the Washington headquarters and the three Chicago headquarters? Well, when you ask the answer is: "Dunno. Must be friends of the colonel."

How much does it all cost? "Dunno."

A True Sport—"Why do you live with your husband, if you quarrel all the time?" "Well, my sister bet me a box of chocolates we would never celebrate our paper-wedding anniversary, and I'm going to win it just to spite her."

HARMON AND BRYAN.

(Youngstown Vindicator)

Mr. Bryan has been the leader of the Democratic party in this country since 1896.

What in all these years has he accomplished for his party or his country? Nothing but defeat for the former—nothing at all for the latter. Not a dollar of tax, tariff, or other, has been lifted from labor through his efforts, not a single abuse has been corrected by him, simply because a majority of the people will not trust him, and he is therefore powerless, no difference how well intentioned he may be.

In the hope of catching votes enough to carry him into power he has advocated everything from Free Silver in 1896 to Prohibition in 1912. He has schemed, and written and spoken and preached and prayed, but all to no purpose.

What has Ohio to gain now by following such a man?

On the other hand, Harmon left a highly lucrative business to accept the nomination for governor in 1908, and the people trusted him and gave him power. Few officers of his party were elected with him that year. In 1910 after experience of two years with him the people not only gave their confidence to Harmon in a hundred thousand majority, but they went farther and elected sixteen Democratic congressmen out of twenty-one and also county officers everywhere—in many counties where a Democratic officer had not been elected since the Civil war.

And what has he given the people in return?

He has reduced all taxes and shifted them from labor and the small home owner to the corporations and rich rent-producing property of the cities. He has given labor the best law in the land for compensating workmen when injured. He has given us one of the most drastic laws governing railroads and telephones in the country. He has given us a corrupt practices act to insure the purity of our elections. He has provided for non-partisan election of judges. He has provided for the election of the next United States senator by vote of the people, and he has reorganized our prisons and charitable institutions so as to save hundreds of thousands of dollars a year.

No progressive governor in this union can show such a record as this achieved by Harmon of Ohio.

And this man of achievement—who has done much for the party and for his state, is to be attacked next Monday here in his own home by Bryan of Nebraska, whose record as we have said begins and ends with mere talk.

If we had a Democratic president Bryan would not be nearly so important a figure as he is while the party is in the minority, for then the president would be the leader to whom the whole party would look for direction. Bryan knows this, and it grows increasingly clear that he prefers keeping the party in defeat to surrendering the importance of the party position which he now holds.

When he couldn't boss Underwood and Clark and congress he vilified and abused all three in his newspaper and now when he sees Harmon is the strongest man in the country with the great population east of the Mississippi river which will elect the next president, he comes here to excite factional division through which he hopes to defeat him. Bryan is as much a rule or ruin man as Roosevelt is.

But Ohio knows Harmon, and what he has done for us all, and we know how to take care of our own.

TALKING POLITICS

Today I went to Beeswack's store to buy some hinges for my door—that door is sagging now like sin, an agent having kicked it in. Old Beeswack took the hinges down, and wrapped them up in paper brown, and tied the package with a string and as he tied he said: "By jing, the way they run this government is causing widespread discontent. Let me explain this Schedule K, which deals with setting hens and hays; just harken to my clarion notes concerning geese and billy goats, and how the robber tariff grinds the poor man's face until he finds himself up to his ears in soup." I interrupted with a whoop. "I came for hinges!" I exclaimed, "and here you're handing out your blamed worm-eaten theories which were stale when Jonah toiled his pacing whale. It's always thus throughout the land; the grocer cannot sell me said without discussing candidates and also rans and kindred states. The laundryman who boils my shirts discusses issues till it hurts. I simply cannot buy a thing but I must listen to a string of punk reflections, all in vain, that bear upon this year's campaign. It's vain to make excuse and gringe. I will not buy your hanged old hinges. I'll never live w another cent with men who roast the government and chasten me with ancient news, and bore me with their tiresome views."

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

By O. Terrence.

DR. BILLINGS, DEAN OF U. S. LIBRARIAN, WAS 73 FRIDAY.

There are two professions in which, to be successful, one must know something of everything. In most lines of human endeavor it is the specialist who arrives, but the librarian and the newspaperman must be well grounded in every field of knowledge. Mr. P. Bono Publicus, editor of the "New York Public Library," is a man of wide general knowledge, and he has also the wide general knowledge so necessary to the successful director of a great public library. The venerable librarian graduated from Miami University, Ohio in 1837, and a few years later received the degree of M. D. from the Medical College of Ohio. At the outbreak of the war he entered the service of the government as an assistant surgeon of the army, and continued to wear the uniform of Uncle Sam until 1895 when, after a year as assistant surgeon general of the United States army, with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, he retired from active service at his own request. He was professor of hygiene at the University of Pennsylvania for some time prior to becoming director of the great library in 1896.

While the name of Dr. Billings is perhaps not as familiar to the general public as Jack Johnson, Ty Cobb or Martha M. Clay, he has attained world-wide fame among the savants, and has been honored with degrees by the universities of many lands. Edinburgh, Buda-Pesth, Harvard, Yale, and Johns Hopkins have conferred upon him the degree of LL. D., Munich and Dublin the degree of M. D., and Oxford made him a D. C. L., or Doctor of Civil Laws. He is a member of the leading medical societies in Ireland, England, Germany, Sweden and France, as well as of the United States, and one-time president of the American Congress of Physicians and Surgeons.

In short, Dr. Billings is one of the few supremely wise men who know so much that they know they don't know very much. The wisest man in America—and yet how little he knows compared with what any college freshman thinks he knows!

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?

The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

STILL HAULING RUBBISH FROM MANY STREETS

The rainfall Saturday stopped the hauling of rubbish which has been in the streets since the early part of the week. The result of the "clean-up" day inaugurated under the auspices of the Board of Trade, in cooperation with the City Street Cleaning and Health department.

While no figures are obtainable as to the number of loads of rubbish deposited at the city dumps, it is believed that it will be almost double the quantity disposed of a year ago. The city may really find it necessary to more than $400 for hauling rubbish alone.

A number of the sections of the city are still to receive the attention of the wagons engaged in hauling the rubbish, but it is believed that Monday will see the entire mass of trash cleaned up.

All the rubbish has been deposited at the specified dumping grounds under the direct supervision of an employee of the city to see that no garbage was deposited except at the regular garbage dump. In a number of cases, the teamsters were instructed not to haul rubbish placed in the street, because it contained garbage which the Health department forbids dumped except at the proper place.

Health Officer Knauss states that no garbage or foul smelling rubbish was dumped on the Buena Vista street grounds at any time. He says that a city employee inspected every load of refuse dumped there and that no wagon which contained any garbage was permitted to unload there.

In a number of cases over the city, the wagon men were instructed not to haul great quantities of brush and limbs felled from trees and deposited in the streets. Almost invariably the property owner, in front of whose house the brush was piled, entered a complaint. One man placed a quantity of plaster, old slate and partially burned timber taken from a house partly destroyed by fire, in the street to have it hauled away, but the pile was left in the street and the property owner instructed to attend to the hauling himself.

HOW TO PLANT SHADE TREES NEXT FRIDAY

Arbor Day will be observed in Newark next Friday, April 19th. Trees may be ordered now through the Board of Trade. School children on Monday will present cards to their parents for signature. Those who desire trees are urged to sign and return the cards at once.

SHADE TREES.

The best kind to plant: Silver maple, also known as hard maple, only objection, rather brittle limbs. Objections to other kinds: Red maple, parts soon die. Sugar, hard, and Norway maple, slow growth, low head, foliage too dense—grass will not grow under it. Catalpa—storms breaks limbs—scraggy appearance in winter, may die after a few years. Poplar—poorest, cheap, shoddy tree, dies early, hurts sale of property, spoils street, sends roots into everything, leaves fall all summer, every seed a nuisance.

Planting—Unless you know how ask Board of Trade for printed instructions.

Trimming—Cut top out when planting but never after that. Trim from below, not from the top, so that sunshine may make the grass grow beneath. On Court House park, along Granville street, on parts of North Fourth and Hudson avenue, it is 40 to 60 feet up to the leaves and the tops have never been cut out, while the trees on Maple avenue, and many other streets have been greatly damaged by cutting tops out.

Where to plant: Between the sidewalk and curbing. Telephone wires will soon all be in alleys. A small lawn is spoiled by planting trees in it.

Number to plant: Two trees are enough on a 45 to 50 foot lot if your neighbors plant trees. Some streets should have half the trees removed.

FRENCH METHOD OF DEVELOPING THE BUST

MME. DUBARRIE EXPLAINS HOW THE BUST MAY BE DEVELOPED 2 TO 8 INCHES IN 30 DAYS.

"I am explaining for the first time to the ladies of America," says Madame DuBarrie, "the French method of developing the bust. It is much more effective, the results appear much more quickly, the breasts become more firm, plump and symmetrical, the method is more simple, the effects more lasting, and altogether beyond comparison with the results produced here.

"By this French method, the breasts may be developed from 2 to 8 inches in 30 days. This applies to women of almost any age. From young girls to elderly matrons, whether the bust is absolutely undeveloped at all, or has grown weak and flabby, and hangs, no matter from what cause,

We suggest to our lady readers that they write to Madame DuBarrie for particulars of this remarkable French method, enclosed 2 cents in stamps for the illustrated booklet and address it to Madame DuBarrie, Suite 3221 Pontiac Building, Chicago, Ill.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Magical Power in Every Life

SOMEWHERE in his writings, Tolstoy makes one of his characters say that we have an entirely wrong understanding of life, that we misinterpret it, misjudge it, and so miss the very best of it. But he goes on to say that people can't be made to see this or to comprehend it, that it is an almost hopeless task to try to give them the right vision.

But Tolstoy wrote this many years ago, and since then thought has been changing. It is swinging around to another viewpoint. We are beginning to get a clearer vision as to what life really is. We are beginning to appreciate our treasure.

Tolstoy's character was speaking of the belief of many that the pleasures of life lay entirely in the externals instead of within. We have thought, and some of us think yet, that to get the most or the best out of life, we must possess the things of this world,—wealth, ease, position, fame; that even health, upon which so much of our happiness depends, is a gift from the outside. In a word, that we are dependent upon the powers without for all that makes life worth living. And if these are denied us, then we are miserable.

And this character of his saw clearly that all this is wrong, that the joy of life depends really upon ourselves, that there is a magical power in every life to furnish it complete happiness.

And this power is our higher nature, not the lower nature that is satisfied altogether with externals, with eating and sleeping and wearing fine clothes and living in the praise of others; but the higher nature that sees the purpose of life, its eternalness; that can enter into and understand and use the untold wealth of infinite love and infinite good and infinite mind. For all these things are ours to make use of for our good; and when we possess these treasures, the things of this world are paltry indeed. It is a case of hitching your wagon to a star, and when you do this, you'll travel faster and see more than in the speediest auto or swiftest aeroplane.

But as Tolstoy's character said, this way of looking at things seems almost incomprehensible to the majority of us. To get this viewpoint means that we must face about entirely. Some do not know how to do this. Others are too fearful. They do not want to let go the known, the tangible, for the unknown and intangible.

But if your life is a sad jumble, if it is not a success, if you do not find satisfaction in what it has brought you, try this development of your higher nature as an experiment. Look within, to yourself, for your real riches. Open your mind to an inflow of the spirit that will teach you all things. And you will soon possess riches of which you little dream—riches that bring pure happiness that nothing can destroy or take away, and in comparison with which even the fabled wealth of Aladdin seems paltry indeed.

This magical power is in every life. It is in yours. And it awaits but your using.

SICK DAUGHTER NOW WELL

Mrs. C. Cole Tells How Her Daughter Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Fitchville, Ohio.—"I take great pleasure in writing to thank you for your medicine has done for my daughter."

"Before taking your medicine she was all run down, suffered from pains in her side, could not walk but a short distance at a time, and had severe pains in head and limbs. She came very near having nervous prostration. She had begun to cough a good deal and seemed melancholy by spells. She tried two doctors but got little help."

"I cannot find words to express my gratefulness for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for my daughter. She feels and looks like another girl since taking it, and I shall always feel that I owe you a great debt."

"You can use this letter for the benefit of others if you wish, as I shall always recommend your medicines for female troubles."—Mrs. C. COLE, Fitchville, Ohio.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Owl's Quarrel With The Bluejay

The Jay Darts Out of the Tree.

JACK and Evelyn admired the bluejay on account of its bright blue coat.

"Yes, Mr. Jay is a handsome bird, and that reminds me of a story about him," said daddy.

"It was one bright day last summer. All the little jays had flown away from the jay's nest and were taking care of themselves. Mrs. Jay could grieve about, having a good time by herself, and so having nothing to do and no one to look after him, Mr. Jay got into mischief.

"Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel had a nestful of young ones in a hollow chestnut tree. Mr. Jay bothered them whenever they put their heads outside of the tree; also Mr. Jay was ready to torment the young squirrels whenever they should be able to run about. Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel knew this and were much worried. They did what they could to keep the young ones from being so worried. One morning when Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel ran down from the nest to their doorway they came bump against a soft fluffy something perched on one of the shelving places inside the trunk of the tree.

"I beg your pardon?" cried Mr. Squirrel.

"Certainly, sir," replied a funny hoarse voice.

"Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel ran on downstairs and outdoors, for they were after breakfast. They found a nut in the little subcellar which they had dug last fall for the safe keeping of their store. As they sat on their haunches nibbling their nuts Mrs. Squirrel said:

"I wonder if he means to stay there? What kind of neighbors do you suppose owls make?"

"I was just thinking of that myself," Mr. Squirrel replied soberly.

"When the squirrels started home they were startled to hear the shriek of an angry jay coming right from that hole in the hollow tree, which was the door to their home.

"Oh, my children, my children!" cried Mrs. Squirrel in agony, and they both rushed for the tree.

"Just as they reached it they saw the jay darting out of the doorway. Inside they could hear a fluttering and now and then an angry hoot.

"When they got inside there was Mr. Owl ruffled and blinking threateningly at the door.

"Does that bluejay live in this tree?" he asked angrily.

"Not if we can help it," answered Mr. Squirrel.

"I'm much relieved to hear it," replied the owl. "I don't think he will dare to come back after the thrashing I gave him."

"Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel ran upstairs as fast as they could. They told the children that they need never be afraid of Mr. Jay bothering them while Mr. Owl kept the front door."

SELLS INVENTION TO CAPITALISTS

Luther Burbank.

In order to devote his time entirely to experimental work, Luther Burbank has sold his fruit, flower and plant creations to Rollo Hough and W. Gardner Smith, of San Francisco. He has long desired to leave the marketing of his products to others, but has never found the right parties before. The men are backed by considerable capital, and it is hoped that the arrangement will give the wizard of horticulture opportunity for developing other wonders in making over nature.

THE BOOSTER'S CREED

We believe in the things that we're handing out
And hand out the things we believe;
We have faith in the God we are talking about,
From whom we our blessings receive.

We believe we are able to get the results,
When working, not shirking our task
We believe that a booster no knocker consults,
And we get what in faith we but ask.

We believe it best to do one deed today,
Than tomorrow to have two things begun,
And the future will find many plans under way
With hope for much more to be done.

We believe that no person can "down and out" be Even though in himself all faith dies;
We believe there is some good in each man we see
And OUR job is to help him to rise.

We believe that courtesy, kindness and cheer
With generous friendship and love
When used in our business will bring heaven near
And praise from the Master above.

We believe there is something for each one to do,
Sometime, some place, and somehow;
We believe we can do it, and we believe too
We are ready to do it right now.

So let each one be ready and willing to boost
Instead of a knocker to be;
And we'll all profit more in the final result
And happy, thrice happy we'll be.

PRESS AGENT SAYS:

DANTE'S INFERNO PICTURES.

An announcement of more than passing notice is the engagement at the Auditorium next Wednesday and Thursday of "Dante's Inferno" pictures, said by both press and public to be the greatest moving pictures ever produced. It has become famous all over the world and has been witnessed by thousands of people, among them the clergy being very conspicuous. It tells a powerful story of the "Agonies of Lost Souls" and is presented in five reels, with living, breathing effects. "Dante's Inferno" was seen at the Auditorium early in September at greatly increased prices but comes back for a two days' engagement at prices of 10 and 15 cents. There will be a matinee each day and two entertainments each evening.

The Auditorium starts its summer season of photo-plays today. This will be joyous news to all lovers of motion pictures, for there is a sort of especial delight in witnessing photo-plays in the Auditorium for the reason that it is large and airy, is kept clean and inviting, and there is no occasion to crowd and jam at any time. Having a seating capacity of over 1400 one can always find a desirable seat. The offerings this summer will be in keeping with the theatre and it will be the aim of the management to present at all times photo-plays of a most entertaining nature. Your favorite "silent actors" will be seen in comedies, dramas, tragedies and romantic pictures and together with Prof. Schmidt's appropriate selections on the piano, a program that would be hard to equal will be the result. At every session, afternoon and evening, five reels of photo-plays will be offered. The pictures will not be in evidence on Wednesday and Thursday on account of the engagement of "Dante's Inferno."

The Orpheum.

Dorothy De Schelle and Company in a comedy dramatic playlet entitled, "The Get Away," will be the big headliner on the new bill at the Orpheum theatre the first three days of next week. "The Get Away" introduces a very bright little story and interesting plot, and a lot of good comedy. Miss De Schelle is a clever actress, who has made her mark in many comedy sketches, and is supported by an excellent cast.

Another classy feature will be the Meyah Jap Twins, two top-notch acrobats. They have nothing but unlimited success to speak for their pleasing ability.

Bohee & Harris, the only colored sister team in vaudeville, are also coming. They are harmony singers of both the popular and classic songs and both ladies have strong voices. They display a handsome wardrobe which helps to make their act a big treat.

Ruth Serry, singing and dancing comedienne, is reported to be a very dainty miss with a very pleasing personality and a clever line of work.

The Orpheumscope will have a new picture. Remember the five reels of states that the main gallery in the Sunday for 5 cents.

Hartman Theatre.

Mrs. Lillian Nordica, America's greatest grand opera prima donna and one of the leading sopranos of the world, will be in Columbus Wednesday evening, April 17th, for a concert at the Hartman theatre. The announcement is more than one of ordinary interest for two reasons: one that Mme. Nordica will be the first grand opera prima donna to be heard in the new theatre and the second, that she will be heard in Ohio for the first time at really popular prices—the admission having been fixed at 50c to $2.00. She will be accompanied by Myron T. Whitney, basso cantante, who has been with her on all her tours during the past three years, and Romayne Simmons, pianist. Mme. Nordica bears the unique distinction of having been the first American singer to receive recognition from musical circles of Europe, her first great triumph being when Frau Cosima, the widow of the great Wagner, invited her to create the part of Elsa in Lohengrin, in the great Wagnerian festivals at Bayreuth. She is now acknowledged to be the greatest Wagnerian singer of the day. She has but recently returned from Europe, where she sang in the Paris grand opera and, by special request of Emperor William, in the Berlin Royal opera. On account of the smaller number of seats at the Hartman, as compared with Memorial hall, where Mme. Nordica has previously sung in Columbus, it will be advisable to send mail orders for seats at once, in order to secure good location.

Leo Ditrichstein, who adapted "The Concert" from the German play of the same name, will enact the principal role in that comedy when David Belasco presents it at the Hartman theatre on Friday and Saturday, April 19 and 20, with a Saturday matinee. This Belasco production has been one of the season's greatest triumphs. It has had a run of 250 performances at Belasco's theatre in New York, and the entire company will be seen here when it is produced at the Hartman.

DEMOCRATS' FIRST BREAK

Caucus Decision in Battleship Matter Caused It.

QUITE A FEW HAVE BOLTED.

Result May Be One if Not Two Ships. $33,000,000 Asked by Ayres For New York Harbor Improvements—Senator Smith of Georgia Would Create a Division of Markets.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 13.—[Special.]—The first break in the Democratic ranks, interrupting the smooth sailing which that party has enjoyed from the beginning of the Sixty-second congress, comes as a result of the determination of quite a number of Democrats not to stand by the caucus in the matter of battleships. Twice the caucus has decreed there shall be no appropriation for battleships at this session and once turned down the mild and conservative Chairman Padgett of the naval committee, who advocated at least one ship.

The fight on battleships has been carried on by those congressmen who have been refused any public building "perk" by the majority of the Democrats controlling the caucus. "No buildings, no battleships," has been the slogan, and for a time it looked as if it might prove a winning cry, but if the refusal to stand by the caucus should have any considerable support it will mean at least one if not two ships.

Seaboard Men Interested.

Men representing seaboard cities are much interested in battleships. This applies particularly to New York, where Congressman Ayres, representing the Bronx district, has been one of the first to proclaim his intention to support two battleships. Ayres is hustling for New York on general principles. He has introduced a bill for improving New York harbor, which will cost $33,000,000.

Division of Markets.

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia has introduced and reported from the committee on agriculture a bill establishing a division of markets in one of the bureaus of the agricultural department. It is rather a good idea, too, for it is in the direction of what farmers and producers are doing for themselves in the way of eliminating the middleman. The new division is expected to furnish information to farmers and to societies of consumers so that the former may know what they can charge for their products and the latter may know how much they ought to pay. Perhaps this may develop into making a bureau which will become the middleman between producers of agricultural products and the consumers without making the usual percentage.

Looks After Alaska.

Although Congressman Sulzer is chairman of the foreign affairs committee, he still is true to Alaska, whose interests were cared for by the committee on territories, of which Sulzer was a long time member. Sulzer's latest effort is to give $10 bounty each for wolves killed in Alaska. Bounties for killing wolves have often been given by states and communities, but the general government is rather shy of all bounty propositions.

Vain Regrets.

"I should regret to spend another summer in Washington," remarked Senator Bristow of Kansas urging the senate to hurry along its business. "I am now serving my fourth year," he continued, "and I have spent every summer in Washington. Unless we get down to business soon we will find ourselves struggling through a hot summer."

Very, very true, but did the senate "get a move on" after that warning? Not to speak of. After debating something for a short time the senate adjourned over Saturday and continued to meet at 2 o'clock.

Arizona on the Job.

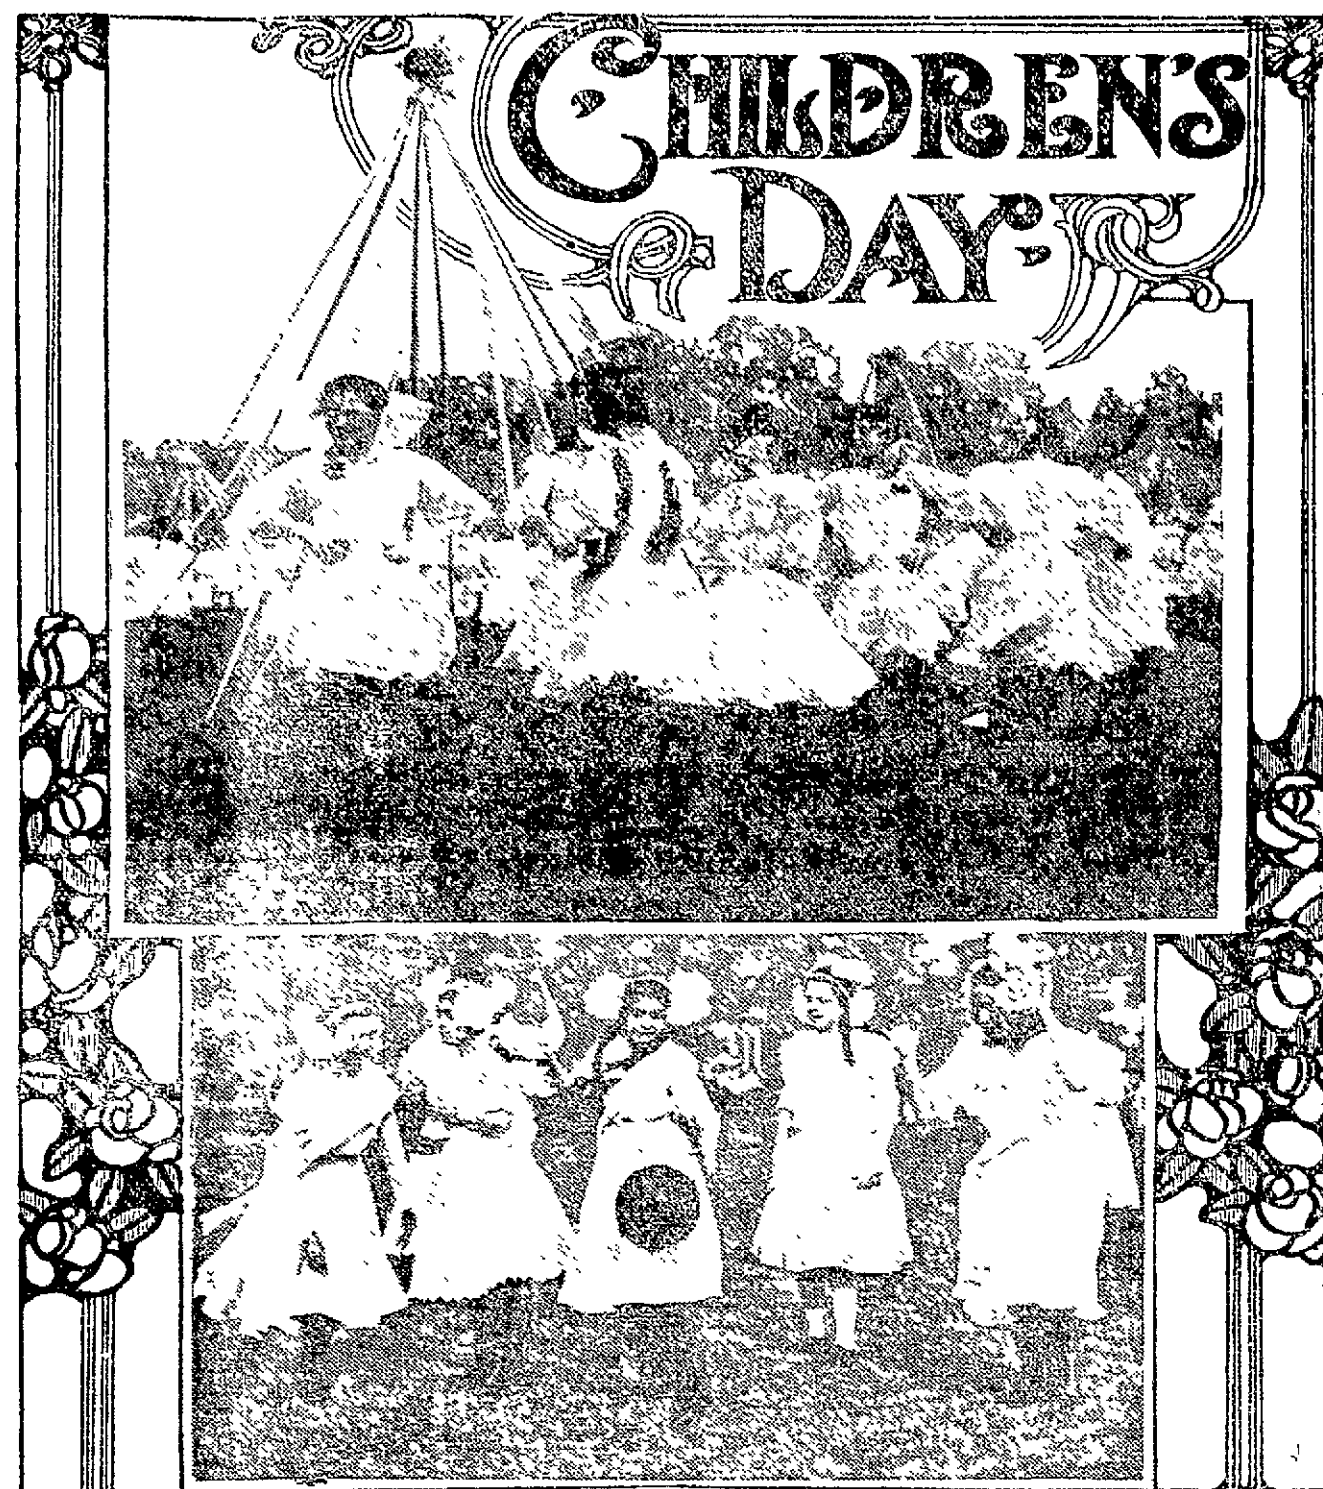

That newest state—I suppose that Arizona will be called the last state because so named in the admission bill—is making itself felt in the senate. Already her senators have attempted to disestablish that hoary old tradition about keeping everything regarding executive sessions in the dark. They have been insisting that a joint resolution, protesting against the confirmation of a federal appointee in that state, passed by the state legislature and published in the papers, shall be printed in the record. Objections have been made by the "elder statesman" on the ground that the document is "secret" or belongs to executive session secrecy. Funny, isn't it?

Chicago "Indians."

In discussion of the Indian appropriation bill Congressman Mann said that the people of his town would deem themselves fortunate if they could have the government build bridges for them and keep them in constant repair.

"But you are not an Indian," remarked Mundorck of Kansas.

"We have more Indians in Chicago than there are in the United States outside of Chicago of red skin," declared Mann, and those who know something of the kind of "Chicago Indians" to which Mann alluded appreciated his little jokelet.

As the years go by Children's day is being more generally celebrated throughout the land, sometimes in connection with Arbor day, again with May day or in the form of an annual Sunday school outing or a school picnic. The celebration is perhaps most elaborate in the borough of Brooklyn, Greater New York, where it has become an established institution and is the festival of the year. Here the number of little ones participating often reaches or surpasses 100,000. The ceremony is attended by high dignitaries, President Taft having been present one year and former Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw, who was in Roosevelt's cabinet, having been on hand on a previous occasion.

The festival is held in June and has been made a legal holiday in Brooklyn by act of the state legislature. It is officially known as Anniversary day and is under the auspices of the Sunday School union.

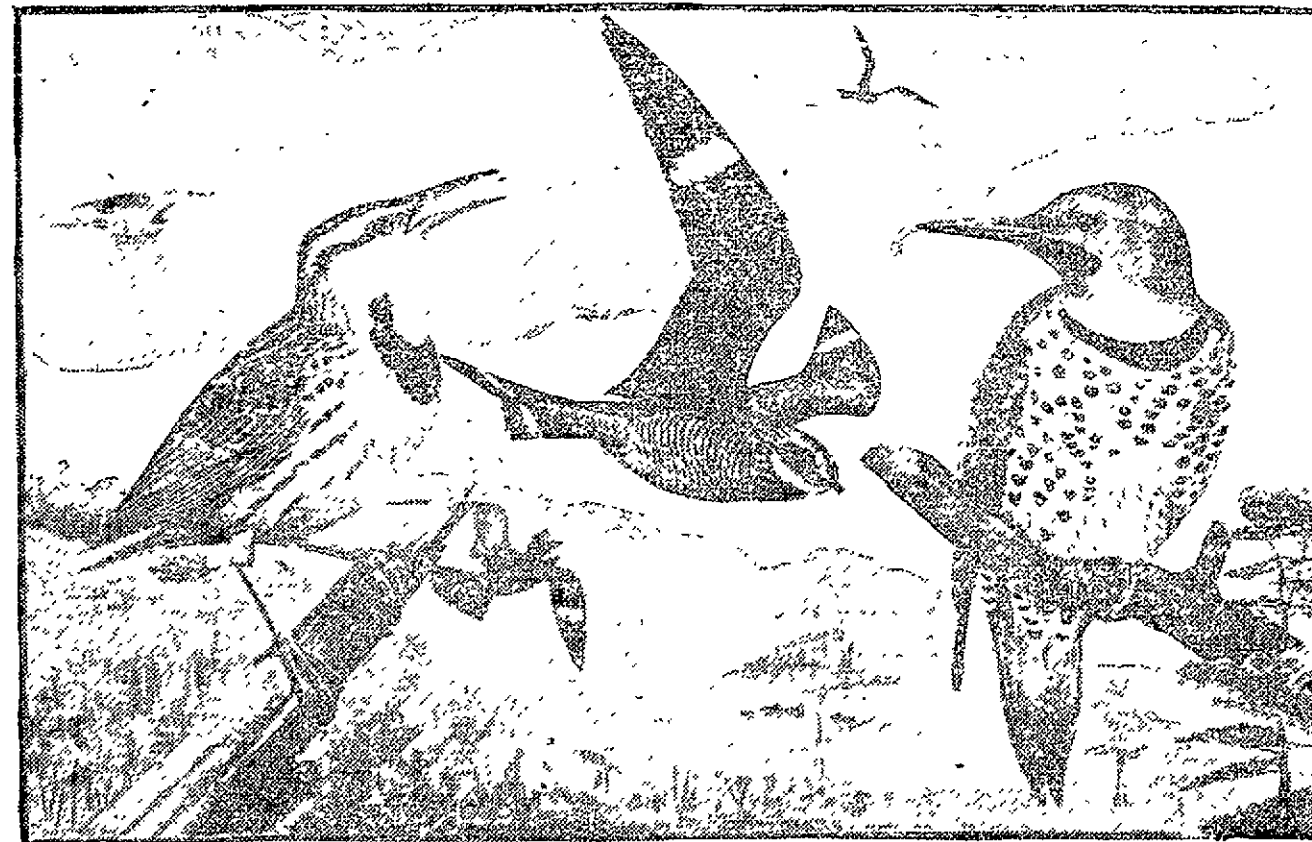

Anniversary day has long been a household word in Brooklyn, and those who now are old can look back to their youth and remember the exercises in the churches, the parades through the streets, the music, the bands and the other things which go to make this day memorable.

Children's day has also been celebrated in the borough of Manhattan. On one occasion the children of different nationalities danced the folk dances of their native lands in Central park. It was a unique and charming spectacle, but almost startling to the beholder, bringing home to him the sudden realization of the many racial elements that make up the American composite.

Sentimental

BIRD DAY

Useful

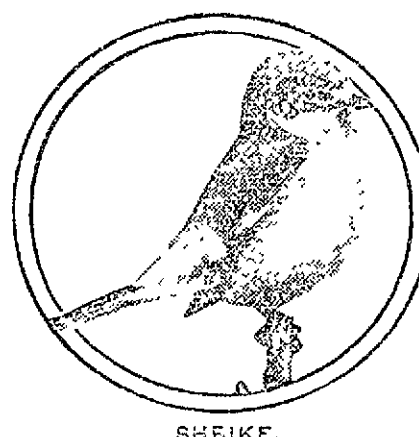

MEADOW LARK.

NIGHTHAWK.

FLICKER.

MANY states now have an official Bird day, among which may be mentioned Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Louisiana, Minnesota, Ohio, Wisconsin and Indiana. In some states it is combined with Arbor day, and in others it has a separate observance. Alabama has placed it on May 4, the birthday of John James Audubon, the American bird painter and naturalist. It is observed in the public schools, and the department of education each year issues a book containing a program and other matter relating to bird life and bird protection. One of the books recently published by the Alabama educational department contains a model constitution for local Audubon societies which can be used as appropriately in schools and homes and to the parks; or as Bird and Arbor day; to acquire a library of nature books, a lantern and colored slides of birds, and to plant trees and shrubs in school grounds and along highways. Committees are suggested for such work as feeding birds in winter, providing places for nests, making a list of local birds, taking a bird census and acquiring a bird library. It is proposed to make any child in school eligible for membership. Meetings are held every two weeks. Dues are not over 2 cents per month.

SHRIKE.

In this work the schools can co-operate with the Audubon societies composed of adults who have in existence throughout the land. There is a national organization of these clubs, also a world organization of societies having a similar purpose. At a recent international convention of these bodies plans were adopted to prevent the slaughter of birds for plumage.

The ideas back of the celebration of Arbor day and Bird day are more intimately associated than would appear from the fact that both represent nature study. The preservation of the birds is absolutely necessary to tree preservation. The birds prey on the insect enemies of the trees. This is especially true of native American birds. John Dwyer, the tree surgeon, gave the reason for a crusade against the English sparrow that it was driving out the American birds and was thus a peril to vegetation. The English sparrow does not prey on the insects that destroy the trees. Mr. Dwyer predicted that if the sparrows were not checked and the native birds protected the trees were doomed. Thus Bird day stands for something more than mere sentiment and becomes of the highest utility.

Those wishing to form local societies for the study and protection of the native birds should correspond with the National Association of Audubon Societies, 1974 Broadway, New York city. This organization is prepared to co-operate with all who wish to promote the celebration of Bird day and will supply literature and lantern slides.

IMPROVEMENT OF NEWARK

(BY VERNIE STASEL, EIGHTH GRADE)

A few days ago the boys and girls in the grammar grades of the Newark schools were directed to write compositions on "Improvement of Newark." The work was done in school without outside assistance. The better compositions were submitted to Superintendent Hawkins who in turn has chosen three for publication in the Advocate. The first of the three which follows was written by Vernie Stasel, who is in the eighth grade of the South Fifth street school:

A few words in the beginning about the advantages our city already has, may not be out of place. Then we can decide better what we can do to improve conditions in Newark. Although attractive on account of its fine system of schools, its churches and numerous industries, together with the fact that it is a great railroad center, Newark can in a great many ways be improved. The children of the city as well as grown up people can help do the work.

Newark is one of the most beautiful cities of Ohio, situated near the central part of the state and among hills which are covered with trees, to which Newark owes much of its beauty. The land surrounding Newark is very fertile, which helps, not only the people of the country, but those of the city, too.

Newark is noted for its ancient, historical mounds, one of which is at Mountbuilders' Park in West Newark.

We also have here the Wehle stove foundry, the largest of its kind in the world; the Halsey and Everett glass factories, the B. and O. shops, the Jewett Car Works, and many other manufacturing industries. While Newark has these and many other civic advantages which attract people here, she has also a good Board of Trade that works hard to make Newark clean, beautiful and prosperous.

We can improve Newark in a number of ways, among them are the following: To pave all streets that need it; the removal of the city dump to a place far outside the city limits so that it will not cause disease; the building of a subway, and extending the street car lines into South Newark would not only benefit the people of that part of the city but would improve the whole city.

If the street car lines ran out to the hills on the south a beautiful park could be made on one of these hills, where the people could go for rest and pleasure. Another thing which would greatly improve our city is to have all the voting booths gathered together into one vacant lot near the city's edge as is done in most other cities.

We should feed the birds when they come in the spring so that they will stay here and we should not allow any one to destroy their nests and eggs. We should also plant and protect trees around our own homes and keep our own lawns and yards as neat and clean as possible.

Newark has a good Board of Education and they try to build new, modern schools for the boys and girls and the children should go to school every day it possible so that when grown they will be good citizens and this, as much as anything else will help to improve a city.

Let us always remember and act on the principles of the oath of allegiance taken by the boys of ancient Athens.

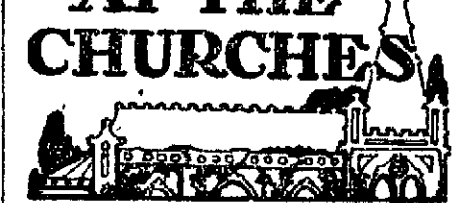

"1. We will never bring disgrace to this, our city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice.

"2. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many.

"3. We will reverence and obey the city's laws and do our best to incite a respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul or set them at naught.

"4. We will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty.

"5. In all these ways, we will strive to transmit this city not only not less, but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

LABOR NEWS

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock the Newark Trades and Labor Assembly will hold its first regular meeting for April. There is quite a program to be considered. Some new faces will be seen and some good speakers may be present, so all delegates should make an effort to be present. A number of committees will make interesting reports.

The last meeting, March 24, was a whirlwind of oratory. The senators were out in force, the attendance was very large and everyone seemed to enjoy the session. President Archer called the body to order promptly and 101 called showed a large turn out of delegates.

After the journal was approved, Messrs Bingham and Morgan made good reports from the legislative committee. Many communications were read by the reading clerk and referred to the proper committees. Organizer Willey of the National Bakers Union addressed the assembly, and was followed by other speakers, after which the meeting was closed in due form by Chaplain Lowery.

VALUABLE ADVICE.

Newark Citizens Should Profit By The Following Statement.

Doan's Kidney Pills cured this Newark resident.

Their merit was shown—the story told. Now comes further evidence. The testimony is confirmed.

The remedy was tested—the cure lasted.

Could Newark residents demand stronger proof? It's Newark testimony. It can be investigated.

Mrs. Elizabeth Starr, 89 Hancock St., Newark, Ohio, says: "I got tired of saying that Doan's Kidney Pills did a world of good for me. I willingly confirm the testimonial I gave in 1909 recommending them. For years I had been badly run down from kidney and bladder trouble. Hard backaches and dull, heavy headaches gave me intense suffering. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me good, relieving all my suffering and restoring my strength and ambition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Friday Was Semi-Centennial of Theft of a Railroad Train

In the National Cemetery at Chattanooga there is a monument, surmounted by a miniature locomotive, which is an object of interest to all visitors. It commemorates one of the most thrilling adventures of the Civil War, a struggle replete with deeds of heroism performed by the soldiers of both sides.

Friday was the anniversary of the semi-centennial of that stirring episode, in which two dozen picked soldiers led by James J. Andrews, a Union spy, invaded the enemy's country and stole a railroad train, in an attempt to destroy the bridges and telegraph lines of the Western & Atlantic railroad. The party left the army of Gen. Mitchell at Shelbyville, Tenn., on April 7, 1862, and made their way with great difficulty to Marietta, Ga. Early on Saturday morning, April 12, 1862, Andrews and his men boarded the train they proposed to steal. At Big Shanty Station, where the train stopped for breakfast, while the trainmen and passengers were in the dining room, the raiders uncoupled three box cars which were in front of the coaches and all climbed into the cars except Andrews and two of the party who were locomotive engineers. The throttle of the famous old locomotive, the General, was opened wide, and with a defiant shriek the engine sped down the track and was well on its way before the 3,500 Confederate soldiers encamped near the track realized what had happened. Safely beyond fear of immediate pursuit, the train was stopped and a rail removed and the telegraph wire cut. Reaching Kingston, three trains had to be passed. Andrews alleged that he was taking ammunition to Gen. Beauregard, and his claim was accepted without suspicion, as it was known that the Confederate general was greatly in need of supplies. The Confederates had not been idle, however, and had taken up the pursuit, first in a hand car until Etowah was reached, where an engine was secured. While the raiders were attempting to get fire to the Oostanaula bridge their pursuers came upon them. Rain was falling and the bridge refused to burn. Then began one of the most desperate races in the history of railroading. To the Chickamauga bridge the Union men managed to maintain a safe lead, but their attempt to set fire to the bridge was futile. Near Ringgold the supply of food gave out, and the train was deserted by the men, who sought to make their escape on foot. Within a few days all were prisoners of the Confederates and Andrews and seven of his followers were executed as spies. The others were imprisoned, and eight of them managed to escape, while the remainder were exchanged about a year after their desperate feat. The remains of Andrews and his little command lie buried in the Chattanooga cemetery, where a monument in their honor was erected by the State of Ohio about twenty-two years ago. While military necessity demanded that Andrews' life pay the penalty for the failure of this hazardous project, his reckless bravery commanded the respect of the brave Americans who were his foes, as well as the admiration of his friends.

Why not get better fruit? The secret of it is Sulpho-Spray

Orchardists, the last word in lime sulphur solutions is sulpho-spray. It is the result of a long series of laboratory tests, supplemented by actual experience of leading horticulturists. It is put out in the highest concentrated form possible at which lime and sulphur will remain in solution.

Fruit growing has been revolutionized by scientific spraying. Orchards that were formerly non-productive have been made to yield enormous profits by spraying at the proper periods and with the proper solutions of lime and sulphur.

Since the introduction of Sulpho Spray, it has had an enormous sale among the leading horticulturists of Ohio and West Virginia. It destroys all sucking insects and scale diseases that sap the life of trees or eat into the heart of the fruit, yet it is absolutely harmless to the fruit or trees themselves.

FIRST THINGS

Ninety-seven years ago today a measure providing for the construction of the Erie Canal was passed by the New York Assembly, and a little more than two years later the first excavation was made for the big ditch connecting the Atlantic with the Great Lakes, by way of the Hudson River. The canal was by far the most important public improvement in the United States before the era of railroading, and the construction of a transcontinental railway. DeWitt Clinton, just a century ago this year, urged the federal government to give aid to the gigantic project, but this was refused. As governor of New York, Clinton was instrumental in pushing the canal to completion, and in 1825 the governor headed a great aquatic procession from Albany to New York, and poured a keg of Lake Erie water into the ocean. The original cost of the canal was $7,000,000, but many times this amount has been expended on maintenance and improvement.

PROGRESSIVE CLUB SCORES BIG SUCCESS

The "Library Benefit" entertainment given by the Progressive club at the High school chapel on Friday evening was a pronounced success, in the matter of quality, far exceeding the average amateur performances. A comedietta and a comic operetta were presented in a most able manner, each part being remarkably well taken, showing that this club of ladies possesses histrionic talent in no small degree. The costumes were original and effective, and the two pieces were clever and amusing.

Master Ralph Allen added a unique and pleasing feature to the program by playing upon his little flute a melody composed of the principal airs in the operetta, while Miss W. W. Gaud presided at the piano as accompanist. A very good sized and appreciative audience was in attendance, just considering the object of the entertainment and the time and labor expended by the ladies to produce it, the entire house should have been packed.

This club has certainly earned the right to the name "Progressive," for its response to any object for the culture or elevation of Newark has always been spontaneous and substantial. The children's room in the library was this winter papered and attractively arranged with funds furnished by this club, and it has done many weeks of this last benefaction, which should be appreciated by all who are interested in the commendable object of a library in Newark which shall reflect credit upon our city. Great credit is due to the Progressive club and all wish them continued success, and express the hope to be fortunate enough to see them again behind the footlights.

How to Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature. BRADFORD REGULATOR CO., Agents, Ga.

THE CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS FOR NEW HOSPITAL

A thirty-five foot banner bearing the words: "A CIVIC NEED $50,000 in one Week for a NEW HOSPITAL."

has been ordered by the Campaign Committee and will be displayed on the street outside headquarters in the Trust building.

Edgar T. Honey is delighted with the spirit of co-operation which is being manifested by the leading business men of the city and is confident of success. "In all our other campaigns we have won out and I know from my intercourse with the men of Newark that they have the ability and willingness in as marked a degree as in any other city, which will enable them to carry this campaign to a successful conclusion."

Civic pride is very apparent in Newark and it is inconceivable to my mind that in this very important undertaking for a new hospital, the need of which is admitted on all hands, she should lag behind other cities. Some of the recent campaigns in which funds have been raised for philanthropic purposes, have been in the smaller cities about the size of Newark. Below is the list of towns where funds have been raised:

Elyria, Ohio	$127,539
East Liverpool, Ohio	$100,000
Quincy, Ill.	$100,000
Newburgh, N. Y.	$92,000
Galt, Ontario	$81,000
Nashua, N. H.	$75,545
Batavia, N. Y.	$50,000
Fostoria, Ohio	$60,000
Topeka, Kan.	$45,000
Youngstown, Ohio	$185,000
Morristown, N. J.	$136,000

The last named town having a population of 12,000. What other cities have done, Newark can and will do."

Flies In Winter.

Now that the deadly germ bearing habits of flies are so well known it is to be hoped that housewives who have valiantly fought them all summer with screens, "swatters" and sticky fly paper will not fall in the equally important matter of killing the flies that are trying to pass the winter in their houses. Kill the few flies that hover over the dining table on mild winter days. If you do not, when it gets colder they may join their less active relatives that have already taken to the attic or the cellar for their winter's nap. You should hunt these out also, brushing them from cracks, from the rafters and other dark and fairly warm places. If everybody did this the probability is that in a few years there would be no fly pest, for all the flies of any given summer are the descendants of those that have survived the winter. Entomologists say that the larvae and pupae of flies do not develop slowly enough to last in those stages through the cold months.

F. T. MERCER FOR CO. AUDITOR

FRANK T. MERCER.

Frank T. Mercer is a candidate for the nomination for County Auditor on the Democratic ticket. There are reasons why he should be given this place that appeals to every taxpayer, one is the tax question. The reappraisal of the real estate in Ohio was a revolution. We believe the Licking county boards did the best job that was done in Ohio, but on account of the mammoth task before them, there is admitted inequalities here and there, this matter will come on again during the first term of the new auditor and Board of Commissioners, the Board of Commissioners will necessarily be all new men regardless of who is nominated and elected. Mr. Mercer having kept the records of the present board and knowing of these inequalities can be of great benefit, not only to the Democratic party but to the tax payers of Licking county in assisting the new Board of Commissioners in eliminating these inequalities and getting the real estate on a just and equitable basis. He invites comparisons and solicits your support.
